

Virginia Waterleaf

Waterleaf Family

(Hydrophyllum virginianum)

Virginia Waterleaf grows 1 to 3 feet high in rich woods. The white or pale violet flowers have long protruding stamens. The leaves are pinnately 5-7 lobed and often look as if stained with water. It blooms in spring and early summer.

Native species.