

Golden Ragwort

Composite Family
(Senecio aureus)

Golden Ragwort grows in moist meadows, boggy woods and swamps. The basal leaves are long-stalked and heart-shaped. The yellow flower heads grow in a branched, terminal cluster. It is 1-3 feet high and blooms in spring and early summer.

Native species.